Warning: Website misusing the name and details of Keystone Law Limited

18 July 2025

A website at 'www.truestonelawsandassetsmanagement.com' is operating using the details of a genuine firm's website.

What is the scam?

The website at 'www.truestonelawsandassetsmanagement.com' is operating and claiming to be a law firm called 'Truestone Law'.

The website for 'Truestone Law' misuses the content from a genuine firm of solicitor's website (see below).

The SRA has also been informed that websites at '<https://truestonelawinvestmentfundsandassetmanagement.com/>'

The SRA does not authorise or regulate firms of solicitors called 'Truestone Law'.

Any business or transaction through the websites 'www.truestonelawsandassetsmanagement.com' and '<https://truestonelawinvestmentfundsandassetmanagement.com/>' is not undertaken by a firm or individual authorised and regulated by the SRA.

Is there a genuine firm or person?

The SRA authorises and regulates a genuine firm of solicitors called Keystone Law Limited (SRA ID 400999), which trades as Keystone Law. The genuine website for the firm is 'www.keystonelaw.com'.

The genuine firm has confirmed that it has no connection to the websites referred to above.

What should I do?

When a firm's or individual's identity has been copied exactly (or cloned), due diligence is necessary. If you receive correspondence claiming to be from the above firm(s) or individual(s), or information of a similar nature to that described, you should conduct your own due diligence by checking the authenticity of the correspondence by contacting the law firm directly by reliable and established means. You can contact the SRA to find out if individuals or firms are regulated and authorised by the SRA and verify an individual's or firm's practising details. Other verification methods, such as checking public records (e.g. telephone directories and company records) may be required in other circumstances.
